

Additional Skill Acquisition Programmes (ASAP)

ASAP commenced in MES College Marampally. The foundation module batch for the academic year 2016-17 commenced on 5th October, 2016 with 34 students selected from various aided programmes. 2015-16 batch classes are also in progress along with their skill training. We made a request to ASAP for starting one more foundation batch for BVoc students, only for Communicative English and IT Module (by avoiding skill components). We got a special order from Govt. Kerala and ASAP to start such a second foundation batch on the academic year 2016-17 and a batch of foundation module for BVoc students have started with 35 students.

Visit to MES School for Differently Abled Students, Edathala

28 February 2017 has always been celebrated as the National Science Day in India to remember and commemorate the invention of The Raman Effect. This year, the theme was “Science and Technology for Specially Abled persons”. In regard to this, the ASAP 2015 – 2016 batch of MES College visited the MES School for Differently Abled Students for a time of companionship and mingling with the inmates of the school and the old age home under the same roof.

Students were transported to and fro by college bus and reached the destination by 10:30 am. On reaching the destination, students were led to different classrooms where they met students with different abilities and their teachers with whom they interacted and came to know about the situation of each inmate. Students with autism, hyperactivity disorder, learning disorder and the like were introduced to the students. After interacting with the inmates and their teachers, both the inmates and the students were brought to their auditorium where they were served snacks and tea from our side. A short formal function was held thereafter in which the teacher's representative informed the students regarding the needs of Science and Technology for them. This was an eye opener for the students as Technology and Science were completely different for them and the inmates. The Principal of MES College, Dr. A. Biju was also present during the time and congratulated the teachers on their mentality to serve beyond their comfort zone. Mr. Murugan R., Coordinator of ASAP, MES College also spoke few words to them.

After the formal function, the inmates of the school treated the students with variety of arts programs which they had done for their annual day. The students cheered on their performance and later joined them in singing few songs along with them. Students also spend some time playing games with them before breaking for lunch.

After lunch, students visited the old age home which was under the same institution where they spend time talking and singing with the older ladies who lived there. Students bid farewell to the institution and reached college by 3:45 pm.
