75 YEARS OF INDIA AS A DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC

We are delighted to inform you that Parliamentary Affairs Club and Research Promotion Council, MES College Marampally, Aluva are organising a two-day national seminar on “75 Years of India as a Democratic Republic” in association with His Highness The Govt. Maharajas Law College, Ernakulam on 10/10/2022, 11/10/2022.

The national seminar aims to bring together researchers, social reformers, Constitution experts, and practitioners from academia to critically evaluate the eventful journey of this great nation post-independence. The seminar will thoroughly analyse how the constitution has enabled us to retain the secular and social fabric of India despite the presence of fringe forces working tirelessly from inside to unwind its progress. Elite scholars will address the academic community across two days to share their wisdom and knowledge. The seminar will also provide the research scholars an opportunity to present their research articles and publish them in the seminar proceedings.

Authors are invited to submit original and unpublished work on any of the following topics.

- 75 years of India as a democratic republic
- Constitution of India and the notion of Social Justice
- The role of court and media in the protection of democracy
- Parliamentary democracy and election
- Decentralization – A Kerala model
- Secularism and Parliamentary democracy

Selected articles that fulfil the publisher requirements on quality will be published in the peer-reviewed print research journal of MES College Marampally, with International Standard Serial Number (ISSN) 2320-6989. At least one author must register for every paper that is to be included in the conference proceedings.

All the submissions must be written in either English or Malayalam and are limited to a maximum paper length of eight (8) printed pages. The manuscript should be original and unpublished work of the authors to consider for publication. The plagiarism in text similarity must be kept to a maximum of 15% to consider the manuscript for acceptance. The paper should be set in single column document format.

The last date to receive the research articles : 05 October 2022
